ATHLOS: PITCHING A PROPERTY WITH NO HISTORY YET

ATHLOS, Alexis Ohanian's women's track and field event, came to Crown Properties Collection needing sponsorship pitches fast. We built one pitch framework from its brand and photography, then made decks for L'Oréal, Google Pixel, Airbnb, Ramp and 20 more brands, some overnight.

CHALLENGE

A new client, tight timelines, a different ask from every brand

ATHLOS came to CPC as a new client that needed sponsorship pitches on tight timelines. Each brand we pitched wanted something different, so for each one we had to work out what would land and why it should sign on for an ATHLOS event.

INSIGHT

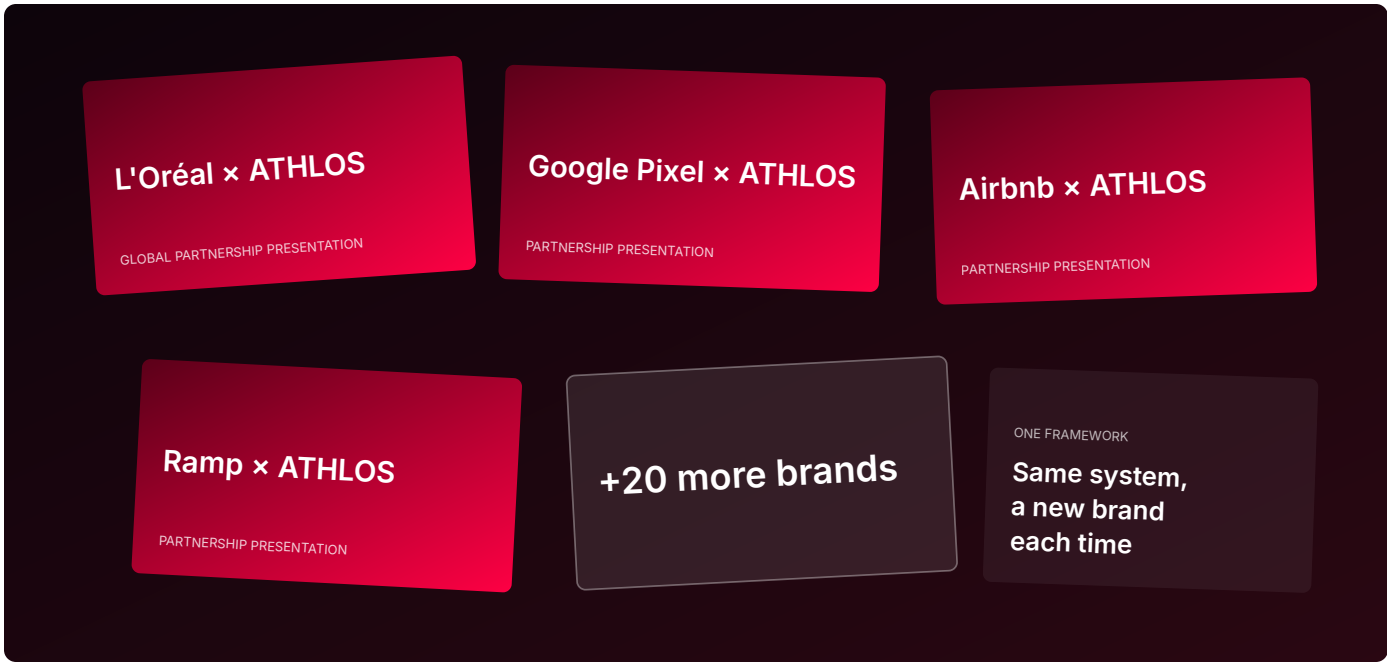

Sell the event, not the numbers

A new property has no ratings or history to sell, so each pitch had to show the brand inside an event worth being part of.

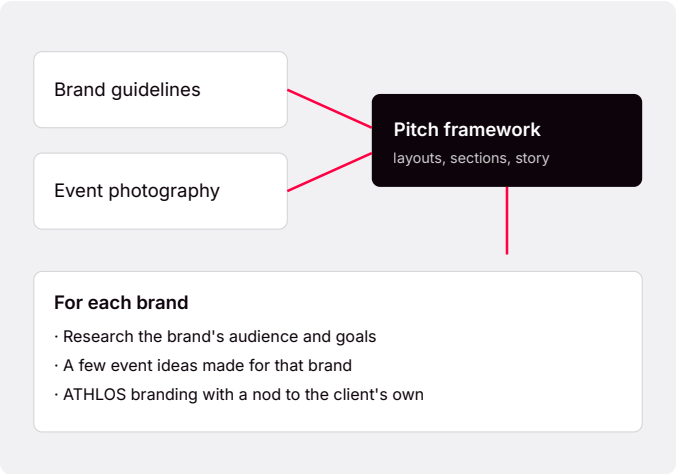

IDEA

One framework, so the hours go into the ideas

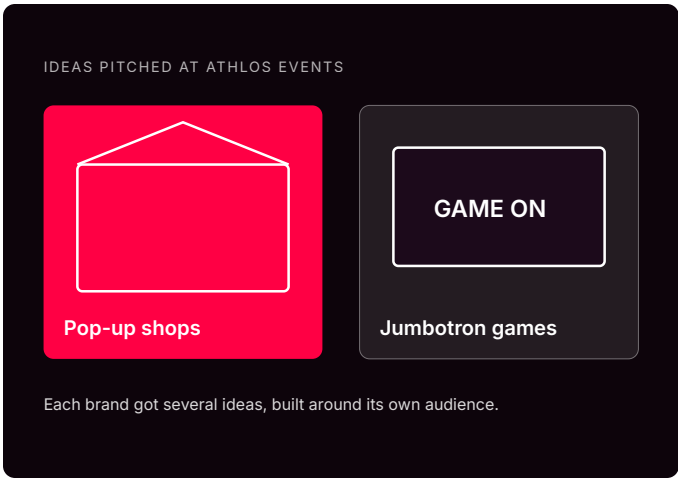

I set up a pitch framework from the ATHLOS brand guidelines and photography. For each brand we pitched a few ideas built around its audience and goals, in decks that paired ATHLOS branding with a nod to the client's own.

RESULTS

Faster decks, more ideas, sponsorship business closed

24+

Brand decks, including L'Oréal, Google Pixel, Airbnb and Ramp

Overnight

Fastest turnarounds, from a shared framework

Several

Event ideas in each brand's deck

Closed

Helped CPC lock down sponsorship business
